DEAN'S MESSAGE

IT IS ALWAYS A PLEASURE TO READ THIS ANNUAL REPORT, savor the wonderful news in its pages, and contemplate my introductory message. That process was particularly gratifying this fall as last year was the fourth in a row in which donors gave more than $20 million to support the Law School. What an extraordinary outpouring of generosity. I am, as ever, grateful to each and every one of the law firms, foundations, friends, and 8,153 alumni who contributed to this effort.

These gifts—your generosity—make possible all we do at the Law School, both now and into the future. They enable us to maintain and enhance the most powerful student experience in legal education. This past year, we offered an astonishing array of 382 classes. These included 24 clinics and additional pro bono opportunities that offer our students invaluable practice experience on behalf of real clients. The support we offer our students to launch the careers of their dreams is equally unparalleled. It takes the form of both extensive career counseling for all students and increased financial support for those working in public interest. This included $761,000 in summer public interest funding to a record 167 students this year. Your generosity is equally critical to the stature and success of our faculty, enabling us to recruit the most accomplished legal scholars and teachers and support their very best work.

Your faith in us gives us both the audacity to innovate and the financial wherewithal to do so. This year, for example, we launched the Roadmap Scholars Initiative, a program that provides comprehensive support to talented first-generation and low-income undergraduates to help them prepare for and navigate the law school admissions process. Our first cohort of 12 amazing and inspiring Roadmap Scholars spent a month at the Law School this past June.

None of this good work would be possible without your support. This annual report tells some of the stories of life at UVA Law today, and highlights some of the initiatives that your gifts have brought to fruition. What a privilege it is to educate the next generation of lawyers, leaders, and public servants who will pay forward all they learn here in service to our Commonwealth, our nation, and our world. Thank you, as always, for making it all possible.

Risa Goluboff, Dean
Arnold H. Leon Professor of Law
Professor of History

LEADERSHIP REPORT

ON BEHALF OF THE LAW SCHOOL FOUNDATION Board of Trustees and Alumni Council, it is our privilege to report the results of the 2021-2022 fiscal year.

Despite the shifting markets, assets held for the benefit of the Law School totaled $845.6 million as of June 30, 2022. The Foundation's assets had a market value of $691.3 million after budgeting over $33 million for the Law School and enterprise operations during the year. The Foundation adheres to an endowment spending rule designed to preserve long-term purchasing power, which will affect future students, and provide a steady stream of income, which affects current students.

The 57th Annual Giving Campaign finished with 9,342 donors, a 46% alumni participation rate, and gifts totaling more than $20.16 million. Currently expendable unrestricted gifts totaled more than $5.1 million.

Gifts and pledges to the Honor the Future Capital Campaign achieved new milestones. On June 30, more than $343.4 million had been raised toward the $400 million goal, with an additional $26.1 million unlocked in University matching funds. More than 15,100 donors have made a gift or pledge—a full 70% of alumni. More than 24,000 of the gifts to the Campaign were under $100, demonstrating the power of the collective working toward a goal.

Each of these accomplishments is a direct result of the tireless efforts of our 1,000+ alumni volunteers and Foundation staff.

We are grateful this academic year offered much more of the true UVA Law experience, with in-person classes, clinics, and an array of community events. Our alumni engagement efforts also provided more of the true UVA Law experience. In October, several classes gathered for small events in Charlottesville after their most recent reunions were cancelled. Additional fall gatherings took place in Charlottesville, Dallas, and Richmond.

Virtual engagements included Professor Danielle Citron's lecture titled "The Fight for Privacy: Protecting Dignity, Identity, and Love in the Digital Age," and Professor Mitu Gulati's webinar on sovereign debt restructuring in the era of Covid-19. A conversation with Dean Risa Goluboff and Assistant Dean Mark C. Jefferson provided an update on the school's diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts.

The spring included events in Austin, Phoenix, New York City, and a Charlottesville reception for alumni and Class of 2022 graduates studying locally for the bar.

A joyful Law Alumni Weekend took place in May, with more than 1,300 alumni and guests attending. The weekend included two special events: the dedication of a portrait of Elaine R. Jones '70, the first Black woman to graduate from the Law School, and a memorial service for former Dean of Admissions Albert R. Turnbull '62. The next Law Alumni Weekend is scheduled for May 12-14, 2023. All alumni, as always, are invited to attend the reunion weekend events.

Risa Goluboff, in her second term as dean, merits our deepest gratitude and appreciation. Her enthusiasm for and commitment to intellectual and cultural pluralism benefits us all. Her ready willingness to share her talents with the Foundation, Alumni Association, and graduates of the Law School has been essential to our ongoing success.

We also extend appreciation to the members of the Dean's Council—the Law School's preeminent donor recognition group—taking special note of the council's youngest member, a graduate of the Class of 2018.

This year's Annual Report highlights a few of the ways donors are supporting the Law School:

- Private gifts supplied 100% of the funding to launch the Roadmap Scholars Initiative. The program aims at leveling the playing field for first-generation or low-income college students who are interested in the legal profession but lack the role models, mentors, or financial means to prepare for and successfully apply to the most selective law schools.
- In 2003, at their 20th reunion, the Class of 1983 established a scholarship with gifts totaling $347,000. Today, that scholarship has a market value of more than $3 million and supports three students a year.
- As of May, all four members of the Phipps family have earned JDs from the Law School. To honor their commitment to the school and its future, the family established the Phipps Family Unrestricted Endowment.

We hope you find the opportunities and initiatives created by donor gifts as inspiring as we do. The Law School may have peers, but our community is unique. You make it special through your loyalty and affection, as well as your generosity.

With our best wishes,

McLean, Virginia

Elizabeth Finn Johnson '87 | President, Law School Alumni Association

WHY THE DEAN'S COUNCIL?

“Anyone who’s ever glanced at the rankings or toured Grounds knows that UVA Law provides as good a legal education as one can get. What isn’t immediately obvious, though (probably because most law schools make similar claims), is the incredible community we have.

“After I was guided through the byzantine process of finding employment, saw that my wife always felt supported and included, and experienced many, many other instances of kindness or help above and beyond what I expected, I came to feel that the community at UVA Law was more like a family.

“Now that I’m out in the world, I hope to always be in a position to be able to support UVA Law in all of its incredible work, because that work is important and because supporting family is a privilege.”

100% PARTICIPATION

The 100% Participation Program challenges and recognizes firms and companies (with at least five Virginia Law graduates) that achieve 100% participation in annual giving. Because many firms and companies are in multiple cities, individual offices with five or more graduates are also recognized. The overall participation rate for the firms and companies in the Program was a remarkable 61%.

Those interested in adding more names to the 100% list should contact Helen Snyder '87, Chief Operating Officer and Director of Annual Giving, at (877) 307-0158, or snyder@law.virginia.edu.

WHY I GIVE

DONORS, DECADES APART

“I have just returned from my 50th Law School reunion. I had a delightful time, as did my wife, Kathleen. But that’s not what prompts this additional contribution.

“Rather, I was most impressed with Dean Goluboff’s remarks about the focus of the Law School in bringing speakers of different political persuasions to the school for respectful dialogue. We desperately need more of this today, lest our unwillingness to listen to each other ruin our democracy.”

— WILLIAM K. KEANE '72
Of Counsel, Duane Morris, Washington, D.C.

“The UVA Law community meant the world to me during my three years of law school, and that is largely thanks to the incredible student activities and organizations I participated in. From the Libel Show to journals to Virginia Law First-Generation Professionals, my time in law school was genuinely enjoyable because of my fabulous peers and mentors.

“I only hope that I can help future Wahoos to look upon their time in law school equally as fondly, and that’s why I chose to contribute.”

— ANDI SCHLUT GRECO '22
Clerk, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas

Members of the Class of 1983 at their 30th Reunion.

CLASS OF 1983

A COLLECTIVE EFFORT

SUPPORTING STUDENTS AT THE LAW SCHOOL has been a decades-long collective effort for the Class of 1983.

Years ago, when members of the class reunion committee were on a call planning their gift, they considered funding a scholarship.

“One of the participants mentioned how much tuition was for the students just starting at the Law School. We were stunned by the dramatic increase since we had graduated,” said Terence P. Ross, one of the effort’s initiators. “We had been looking for a worthy project to target our reunion gifts toward, so I suggested perhaps we should consider giving toward a scholarship fund.

“I distinctly remember one of the other organizers, Bob Latham, noting that it would be the first time that the word ‘scholarship’ had ever been associated with the Class of 1983,” Ross added.

A consensus quickly formed around the idea and the class began fundraising. By their 20th reunion, the class had raised more than $347,000 for the Class of 1983 Scholarship.

That fall, the inaugural Class of 1983 Scholarship of $4,500 was awarded to a first-year student. “The goal had always been to provide support for three students—one in each current class attending the Law School—but it took us several years to build up to that aspiration, which we reached a few years ago,” Ross said. Since the first award in 2003, the scholarship has distributed more than $900,000 to 19 students. Last year, three law students were awarded more than $109,000 and the endowment stands at $3.1 million.

“The class continues to support the scholarship all these years later because it has become even more necessary over the years as tuition has continued to climb,” Ross said. “More recent classes looking for a fundraising project should consider following the Class of 1983’s lead and creating their own scholarship as such funding is more important than ever.”

WHY WE GIVE

A FAMILY AFFAIR

ENDOWED AND NAMED UNRESTRICTED FUNDS, such as the Phipps Family Unrestricted Endowment, help secure UVA Law's long-term needs.

"The Law School will always have a very special place in our hearts," said Kim Phipps '91. "Errol and I met and got married while in school, both first-generation lawyers. And now both of our daughters, Sara '20 and Sydney '22, are alumnae. We are all proud to be a part of the UVA Law community."

Errol '91 said, "When I graduated from NYU in 1988, one of the reasons their alumni association offered to encourage giving back was something to the effect that the value of your degree is only as good as the school is perceived in the then-present. That resonated with my 22-year-old self, and I've given almost yearly ever since. That practice continued when we graduated from the Law School. My motivation became more altruistic over the years."

"We decided to create an endowment to do our part in continuing the legacy of excellence and community that UVA Law is widely known for and that we experienced and were able to greatly benefit from," Kim said. "We chose to create an unrestricted endowment because we realize that needs change from year to year and what is most needed today may not be what is most needed tomorrow. We believe an unrestricted endowment gives the people who are closest to and most in tune with the current needs of the school and its students the flexibility to put the funds to the best use."

Professors Barbara Spellman and Frederick Schauer conduct a class with Roadmap Scholars.

The Roadmap Scholars spent several weeks in Charlottesville this summer learning about the legal system and the law school application process. The inaugural scholars are Kayla Richardson, Makayla Bibby, Carson Livingston Cross, Dianey Navar, Blessing Roland-Magaji, Samantha Navarro, Alan Macias, Cheyenne Butler, Jonah Vazquez, Diane Pfeifer, Aspen Andersson, and Tamyah Johnson.

NEW ROADMAP SCHOLARS INITIATIVE

THE LAW SCHOOL LAUNCHED A NEW PIPELINE INITIATIVE this year designed to help level the playing field for under-resourced students who seek entry into the legal profession.

The Roadmap Scholars Initiative offers a first-of-its-kind path to preparing first-generation and low-income undergraduate students to become competitive applicants to the nation's leading law schools. Private gifts, which provided 100% of the funding for the initiative, included a grant from the Jefferson Trust, a donor-led project of the UVA Alumni Association, and a major gift from Thomas R. Denison '86, a trustee of the Law School Foundation who has taught as a lecturer at the Law School for 12 years.

The 12 inaugural Roadmap Scholars participated in a four-week residential program at the Law School this June to introduce them to law school and the legal profession more broadly. To get a sense of what being a law student is like, the scholars took mini-courses covering a range of topics from the school's curriculum.

Next summer, the scholars will return to Charlottesville for a two-week application bootcamp before working at a paid internship in the legal industry. They will be mentored by UVA Law students and alumni, and travel expenses, room and board, and stipends are provided for all participants.

HELPING THOSE WHO FOLLOW

“My gift should go toward a scholarship for an African-American student who is subject to exorbitant debt and does not have parents who are legal or medical professionals who can financially assist with the debt.

“In other words, this should be a middle-class student who, like me, will face over $200,000 in law school debt when he or she completes their legal education.”

— CHRISTIAN JOSHUA MYERS '18

CLASS OF 2022

GRADUATION GIFT PLEDGE CAMPAIGN

THE CLASS OF 2022 GRADUATION GIFT PLEDGE CAMPAIGN, Our Impact Our Legacy, kicked off in March of 2022. Due to the pandemic, half of the class's UVA Law experience took place online or in a hybrid format.

Although the Class of 2022 did not have the full Law School experience, the legacy of the class gift remains.

Led by Class Gift Co-Chairs Caroline Spadaro and Ansley Seay, the campaign's 27 class agents reached out to every classmate to ask for a pledge of support as a graduation gift to the Law School.

CLASS PLEDGE CAMPAIGN CO-CHAIRS AND CLASS AGENTS (In alphabetical order): Lera Bamgbala, Christopher Benos, Roni Courtney, Eric Feldman, Kelli Finnegan, Andi Schlut Greco, Sean Hickey, Donna Faye Imadi, Lauren Johnson, Peter Kaplan, Christina Kelly, Ardi Khalafi, Connor Kurtz, Trace Larabee, Jack Ligon, Tiffany Mickel, Sam Mirzai, Katherine O'Neal, Abby Porter, Ansley Seay, Eric Seifriz, Margaret Shin, Caroline Spadaro, Jeffrey Stiles, Tallulah Tepper, Philip Tonseth, Rambert Tyree, Tommy Wiltshire, Jack Wollmuth

This year, the Arthur D. Morris Law Library's Special Collections acquired a 1578 edition of Edmund Plowden's Commentaries—a very significant collection of law reports from that period. The book was purchased with funds from a bequest from Thomas D. Soutter '62. Eighteen donor funds support the work of the library.

“A law library is a communal, professional place—it represents the common store of lawyers' knowledge. It is also where the individual lawyer researches the single point of law. I support the Special Collections area because lawbooks from history are often lawbooks that made history and working with them can bring together the individual lawyer and the profession of law.”

— ALLEN D. BOYER '82 designates his annual gift to the work of special collections.
