

CONTENTS

List of Figures	page vi
List of Tables	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction	1
1 The Case for Proactive Fiduciaries	14
2 Fees and Dominated Funds	28
3 Of Lawsuits and Letters	45
4 What More Fiduciaries Should Learn: Assessing the Prevalence of Allocation Errors	68
5 What More Fiduciaries Should Learn: Assessing Whether Participants' Portfolios Perform Poorly	91
6 What Fiduciaries Can Do to Remedy Menu Misuse: Different Ways to Implement Streamlining and Guardrailing	112
7 How Should Fiduciaries Trade Off Divergent Participant Interests?	131
8 Can Streamlining and Guardrailing Mitigate Allocation Error?	147
9 The Growing Misuse of Brokerage Windows	170
Conclusion	189
Index	197